

CLEVELAND CLINIC JOURNAL OF MEDICINE

MEDICAL GRAND ROUNDS

■ WILLIAM S. WILKE, EDITOR

Diagnosing infective endocarditis 172

The diagnosis has been based on the presence of fever, a new heart murmur, peripheral stigmata, and sustained bacteremia with a typical microorganism—all of which are not invariably present. New criteria offer greater diagnostic accuracy.

D. L. LONGWORTH

Assessing depression in medical patients 174

Suicidal ideation is an intensely personal matter, and many patients may be alarmed by questions about it. A less threatening approach is described.

G. E. TESAR

INTERNAL MEDICINE BOARD REVIEW

■ DAVID L. LONGWORTH AND JAMES K. STOLLER, EDITORS

The clinical usefulness of urinalysis 177

Two challenging cases to test your diagnostic acumen.

P. M. HALL

CLINICAL APPLICATIONS OF RESEARCH

■ BEN H. BROUHARD, EDITOR

Preglomerular and postglomerular blood flow: relationship to kidney disease and treatment 179

Clinicians are taking the first steps toward preventing or slowing kidney failure, thanks to special techniques for studying renal microcirculation.

S. R. INMAN, B. H. BROUHARD, AND N. T. STOWE

REVIEWS

Prophylaxis of opportunistic infections in persons with HIV infection 187

Effective regimens are available for preventing some of these infections. Studies are in progress to establish optimum regimens for others.

B. F. STEARN AND M. A. POLIS

Chemotherapy-induced Raynaud's phenomenon 195

Cure of malignancy is most important, but detecting delayed toxic effects of antineoplastic therapy deserves close attention, as well.

E. TOUMBIS-IOANNOU AND P. R. COHEN

ORIGINAL STUDIES

- Metastasis or adenoma?
CT evaluation of the adrenal mass 200

Documenting the stability of adrenal lesions should be done for longer than usual to increase the likelihood of identifying malignant adenomas.

A. A. SINGER, N. A. OBUCHOWSKI, D. M. EINSTEIN, AND OTHERS

- Commentary 205
E. L. BRAVO

- Azathioprine vs cyclosporine in recipients of HLA-identical renal allografts 206

These two agents produce equally satisfactory outcomes in this immunologically favored group. The need for continued steroid therapy in these patients requires further study.

I. S. GILL, E. E. HODGE, A. C. NOVICK, AND OTHERS

CARDIOLOGY DIALOGUES

■ JAMES THOMAS, EDITOR

- Transesophageal echocardiography:
why and when to use it 211

In this open discussion of an important health care utilization issue, panelists expound on the appropriateness of TEE in several clinical situations.

A. DeMARIA, A. KLEIN, G. BELL, AND OTHERS

CLINICAL PATHOLOGICAL CONFERENCE

- A 51-year-old man with a history of stroke
and red streaks in the legs 219

A diagnostically challenging case is worked up. Based on a presentation at a Cleveland Clinic Foundation Clinical Pathological Conference.

M. E. MAYER, J. W. OLIN, T. J. MASARYK, AND OTHERS
