FROM THE EDITOR

Intervention as prevention 361

True primary prevention of disease or its complications seems an attainable goal in many situations.

B.F. MANDELL

IM BOARD REVIEW

Fever, chills, and chest radiographic infiltrates in a middle-aged woman 367

A woman with a history of asthma, hypothyroidism, nephrolithiasis, and bowel problems has worsening shortness of breath. She also has an interesting hobby.

A.J. CHOURE, R.K. SHRESTHA, S.P. LAROSA, AND A.C. MEHTA

REVIEW

Disseminated intravascular coagulation: Treat the cause, not the lab values 377

Therapy directed at laboratory manifestations of DIC often will not change the course of the illness. It is important to recognize and treat the underlying cause, eg, trauma, cancer, infection, or obstetric catastrophe.

C.A. LABELLE AND C.S. KITCHENS

REVIEW

When is facial paralysis Bell palsy? Current diagnosis and treatment 398

Bell palsy is largely a diagnosis of exclusion, but certain features distinguish it from facial paralysis due to other conditions.

A. AHMED

REVIEW

Recognizing and intervening in intimate partner violence 406

Intimate partner violence is as at least common as many conditions for which we routinely screen. Yet it remains underdiagnosed and undertreated.

G. KAUR AND L. HERBERT

What you should know about intimate partner violence 425

MEDICAL GRAND ROUNDS .....

Adrenal function in critically ill patients:
How to test? When to treat? 427

There is evidence that even partial adrenal insufficiency is associated with increased mortality. But exactly how should adrenal insufficiency be defined and diagnosed, and who should receive treatment?

A. HAMRAHIAN

Diabetic retinopathy:
Treating systemic conditions
aggressively can save sight 447

To control diabetic retinopathy, we need not only to detect it promptly, but also to manage common systemic comorbid conditions such as hypertension, hyperlipidemia, anemia, obstructive sleep apnea, and smoking—all of which tend to accelerate its course and increase its severity.
