1-MINUTE CONSULT
Brief answers to specific clinical questions

Should all college-bound freshmen receive meningococcal vaccine?
Although freshmen living in dormitories have a higher risk, the CDC advises education rather than routine vaccination.
S.M. Gordon

Should a patient with a brain tumor receive anticoagulation for a thromboembolic event?
Although many physicians are reluctant to use anticoagulation in this situation, brain tumors are not an absolute contraindication to anticoagulation.
A. Morales and D.J. Adelstein

MEDICAL GRAND ROUNDS
Radiofrequency ablation of the pulmonary veins: Can it stop atrial fibrillation at its source?
Atrial fibrillation appears to originate in the pulmonary veins; ablation could be a cure.
