APRIL 2009

Table of Contents

FROM THE EDITOR ................................................................................. 214

Spring brings changes to CCJM

This month, we welcome our new deputy editor Dr. Timothy Gilligan and our new editorial board member Dr. Theodore Suh.

B.F. MANDELL

THE CLINICAL PICTURE ......................................................................... 221

Multiple huge bullae after renal transplant

The patient received a kidney transplant 3 months ago and is taking immunosuppressant drugs. What is the most likely diagnosis?

M.-J. TSAI, H.-T. KUO, AND H.-C. CHEN

REVIEW ...................................................................................................... 225

Endoscopic therapy of recurrent acute pancreatitis

Endoscopic therapy is an alternative to surgery for some patients with acute recurrent pancreatitis, ie, those whose disease is caused by gallstones or other mechanical processes that can obstruct outflow from the pancreas.

M.A. PARSI, T. STEVENS, J.A. DUMOT, AND G. ZUCCARO, JR

REVIEW ...................................................................................................... 235

Polly can make you sick: Pet bird-associated diseases

Bird owners are at risk of a number of bacterial, protozoal, fungal, viral, and parasitic zoonoses. We review the presentation, evaluation, and basic treatment of these diseases.

K.S. JORN, K.M. THOMPSON, J.M. LARSON, AND J.E. BLAIR

CONTINUED ON PAGE 212
CONTINUED FROM PAGE 211

REVIEW ...........................................................................................
What can we expect from omega-3 fatty acids?
Many patients are taking fish oil supplements, either on their own initiative or on their physicians’ advice. Driving this trend is accumulating evidence that these lipids actually reduce cardiovascular risk.
E.J. CHAN AND L. CHO

1-MINUTE CONSULT ..........................................................................
What is the utility of measuring the serum ammonia level in patients with altered mental status?
If you already know that the patient has decompensated liver disease, then measuring the ammonia level has little value.
H.M. ELGOUHARI AND R. O’SHEA

CURRENT DRUG THERAPY ..................................................................
Pregabalin for fibromyalgia: Some relief but no cure
How will pregabalin (Lyrica) fit into the treatment of this challenging disease?
L. KIM, S. LIPTON, AND A. DEODHAR

DEPARTMENTS .................................................................
Letters to the editor 218
Barium esophagography
CME calendar 224
About our CME Self-test Online 263
To receive CME credit, read the selected articles in this issue and then go online to take the test. It should take about 1 hour and 30 minutes to complete this activity. Release date: April 1, 2009. Expiration date: March 31, 2010.

UPCOMING FEATURES

■ Osteoporosis: Bone quality is more than density
■ Advance care planning: Beyond the living will
■ Small fiber neuropathy: A burning problem
■ Cell phone elbow
■ When and how to image a broken rib
■ Coronary grafting, stents, or medical therapy: Which patients benefit?
■ Peripartum cardiomyopathy: Causes, diagnosis, and treatment
■ Is cardiac telemetry overused?