Recognizing the unusual:
The diagnostic epiphany 277

We have all experienced the sudden recognition of an unexpected diagnosis, such as the case of visceral angioedema due to angiotensin-converting enzyme therapy reported by Korniyenko et al in this issue of the Journal.

B.F. MANDELL

A 46-year-old man with fever,
ST-segment elevation 286

ST-segment elevation commonly represents acute myocardial infarction, but it is also associated with other conditions.
