FROM THE EDITOR

Why not a shot of prevention? 741

Last year the flu season was surprisingly mild, but this should not lull us into a lackadaisical approach to offering vaccination to all of our patients.

B.F. MANDELL

1-MINUTE CONSULT

Should N-acetylcysteine be used routinely to prevent contrast-induced acute kidney injury? 746

Its routine use is not supported at this time, but there is evidence to suggest giving it to patients with baseline renal dysfunction.
