Table of Contents

FROM THE EDITOR

When snoring is more than an annoyance  457
We should vigilantly look for obstructive sleep apnea and, if it is diagnosed, strongly encourage treatment.

B.F. MANDELL

SMART TESTING

Do imaging studies have value in a patient with acute, nonspecific low back pain?  462
Consider imaging only in patients who have red flags for fracture or malignancy.

C.D. SMITH AND P.C. ALGUIRE

Better care is the best defense: High-value clinical practice vs defensive medicine  464
Viewing every patient as a potential lawsuit is bad for patients, practice, and the health care system.

L. SNYDER SULMASY AND S.E. WEINBERGER

THE CLINICAL PICTURE

Alveolar proteinosis:  468
A slow drowning in mud
The patient improved markedly after whole-lung lavage and has had no recurrence at 1 year.

M.H. ALSHATI

A 78-year-old smoker with an incidental pulmonary mass  477
His age, smoking history, and findings on radiography raised the concern of lung cancer.

A.N. TAVARE AND C. CASH
