FROM THE EDITOR

Hope may not be the best component of an exercise regimen 89

Exercising to lose weight more often results in frustration than a trip to the store to buy smaller-sized clothes.

B.F. MANDELL

THE CLINICAL PICTURE

Bulldog scalp 90

A 54-year-old man presented with a 2-year history of unusual skin folds on the scalp—cutis verticis gyrata.

C. SRIPHRAPRADANG AND C. NGARMUKOS

A 60-year-old man with forehead swelling 95

CT and MRI revealed infection in close proximity to the brain. The patient recovered with antibiotics and surgery.

B. MILLER

1-MINUTE CONSULT

Can patients opt to turn off implantable cardioverter-defibrillators near the end of life? 97

Yes, it is reasonable to consider deactivation near the end of life if the patient or family wishes.

M.M. BAIBARS, M.C. ALRAIES, A. KABACH, AND M. PRITZKER

COMMENTARY

The ethics of ICDs: History and future directions 99

There is no ethical requirement that treatment, once started, must continue against the patient's wishes.

M.L. SMITH AND E. KODISH

COMMENTARY

Veterans, guilt, and suicide risk: An opportunity to collaborate with chaplains? 101

Chaplains and clinicians bring complementary skills and services to the problem of suicide risk in veterans.
